NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Early Fall Styles in Dresses, Suits, &c.

The new styles for dresses, suits, wraps and children's clothing are very pretty, and everything is profusely trimmed. Velvet guipure lace, Chantilly lace and fringes will be much used for trimming. When the skirt has a dounce of the material, the overskirt is often trimmed with wide fringe.

Gay plaids will be worn in wraps, draped on the back as burnous, and one corner thrown over the left shoulder.

A novel way of arranging a square shawl is to take a few plaits in the back, the same in front; the corners then simulate the front and back of a basque skirt, and the shawl hangs loosely over the shoulder in the form of a mantle.

Long shawls—the plaids—are folded to simulate a mantle or coat. A few folds are laid, and fastened at the back of the neck, and brought down to the belt, from which two shawls fall loosely. In front are folds and shawl falls this does not need to be described, but a shawl draped in this manner is graceful.

Evening dresses.

An evening dress of blue is very handsome, trimmed with black Chantilly lace and black velvet with white edge. The bodice is a Lady Washington waist, medium high on the back, and open in front to within four inches of the belt, with wide lace falling around the neck, and narrow velvet heading it. Sleeves are plain, with a wide, pointed velvet cuff. The belt is of velvet, edged with white, and has bows and ends of black and white. The skirt has one wide dounce put on in fan-shaped plaits, with a black velvet star between each, upon the plain space at the top. The overskirt has the front plait, sloping up to the side and joining the back one-fourth of a yard from the belt. The back is in two puffs; the upper one has a fall of lace, and there is wide lace around the entire overskirt, headed by velvet with white edge; bows of this ribbon are set on the side where the front and back join.

A purple dress with long trained skirt has one dounce around the bottom; an overskirt bound with white satin, and trimmed at intervals with clusters of purple leaves, bound with white satin. The waist and sleeves are trimmed to correspond, and there are white satin buttons in front.

Suits.

Suits will be much worn, and there is not even a rumor that Dame Fashion thinks of ruling them out; for winter they will be wadded, or a warm vest can be worn under the basque. An elegant suit has one wide dounce around the bottom. There are two narrower dounces, set one above the other, to represent two skirts, and at the back a short puffed skirt of a basque. Sleeves are plain, with cuffs of velvet; and there is a cape that falls over the shoulders and back, composed of three ruffles.

A very neat, pretty way of making an overskirt to be worn with a black skirt and for early fall wear, or may be worn for evening, is to make the back open to within one-fourth of a yard from the belt; the edges are trimmed with wide Chantilly lace, and joined by a velvet bow; the front is composed of Chantilly lace, set together over silk of some contrasting color, as brown, pink or blue; rosettes are made of this lace and silk to ornament the sides.

A morning wrapper has a wide dounce only on the back breadth, that extends to the neck in Watteau style; the front breadth is trimmed in form of a rounded apron, and the side ones are in points; the trimming is composed of three rows of velvet, one wide between the narrow, and this extends up the seams from the trimming around the bottom to the belt; the waist is French style with revers and collar decorated by rows of velvet.

The pretty sailor jacket will be very fashionable this fall, with revers and a sailor collar. Children's suits are made much in the style of those of larger growth, going or circular form. The materials most used are in gray colors, plaids or stripes.

Religious.—The Right Rev. Bishop Gibbons, of Wilmington, N. C., is on a visit to our city, and will preach on to-morrow (Sunday) in the Cathedral Chapel, at the hour of half-past ten o'clock. The pews will be open to the public.

SALE OF STEAMBOAT PROPERTY.—A part of the steamboat property owned by the late Captain John Ferguson has, we are informed, been sold at private sale. Among them we learn was the steamer Pilot Boat to Messrs. J. D. Alden & Co. for $10,000, the steamer Planter for $10,000, and the steamer "Belle" for $5000. These vessels will be engaged as hulkers, in facilitating the commerce of this port.

SEIZURE OF THE BROWN IRON WORKS.—We learn from the Augusta Constitutionalist that the Brown Iron Works, better known as Cooper's Iron Works, have recently been seized by the United States Government, as the property of the Confederate States, at the instance of the Commissioner at Washington, under the 12th section of the act of 1866 and the amendatory acts of Congress. The Brown property comprises some fifteen thousand acres of land.

THE BRIG CYCLONE AND THE SHIPPING AGENT.—It is a conversation held yesterday with Captain Frisbie, of the brig Cyclone, he stated that he had no charge whatever to bring against the shipping agent, Mr. J. Johnson. He was well assured that the shipping agent had no intention of swindling him, and he regretted that such a construction might have been put upon the article in yesterday's News, entitled "charged with swindling." He also stated that the third man who was shipped made no attempt to escape.

Mr. Johnson called upon us yesterday, and gave us a full statement of the affair, which clearly showed that he was blameless in the matter. He showed us the following certificate from Captain Frisbie: "I hereby certify that I have had a full and clear understanding with Mr. Johnson, the shipping agent, and exonerate him from all intention to do me an injustice."

Guilmarin & Co. yesterday received one bale of sea island cotton of the new crop, from the plantation of Samuel Swindle, in Liberty County. The bale weighed three hundred and thirty pounds, and was of fine staple. This, we believe, is the third bale of the new crop received here."

INCOME OF PROFESSIONAL MEN.—Under the following clause of an ordinance "to raise supplies for the year 1869 and for other purposes," the professional men of the city, physicians, lawyers and dentists, returned their gross incomes to the City Assessor: "Three dollars on every hundred dollars of gross income, and all gross profits derived from the pursuits of any faculty, profession, occupation or employment, or from the exercise of any office, whether in the profession of the law, the profits derived from the costs of suits, counsel fees or other sources of professional incomes, and also from the practice of dentistry, &c."

That Census.

CHARLESTON, S. C., SEPTEMBER 3, 1869. TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS.

In your issue of this morning you state that you are prepared to prove that there has been great carelessness on the part of the census-takers in not calling upon all the citizens and getting their names. You further state that, upon inquiry, the facts elicited by you are as follows: "viz:

"Of four persons in the hotel rooms of THE NEWS, two had been called upon, and the other two in the business office, none had been called upon."

"Of eleven in the composing room, only five had been called upon."

"Three colored waiters at a table at the Charleston Hotel were asked if they had been called upon by the census-takers, and asserted that they had not been."

"A colored waiter at the Bay had stated that they knew nothing whatever about the census being taken until they saw the returns published in the News."

"At a meeting Wednesday night, of seven persons asked only one had been called upon."
